Break Up Big Ring In Narcotics

Kansas City The Center Of Operations

By Harvey Scandrett

KANSAS CITY, April 12—(P)—The federal government today smashed a narcotic ring with coast-to-coast ramifications radiating out of Kansas City, where a government official said the narcotic situation is "unbelievable."

H. J. Anslinger, U. S. commissioner of narcotics who came here from Washington to head the roundup, announced the arrests of 13 suspects in Kansas City, New York, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Among them was a uniformed patrolman of the Kansas City police department, whose control by the boss Tom Pendergast Democratic organization is under fire by Gov. Lloyd Stark.

Anslinger, who termed Kansas City the "capital of narcotics distribution throughout the mid-west," estimated 500,000 grains or 1,000,000 doses of narcotics were seized in the widespread raids or purchased by under-cover agents of the narcotics bureau, a division of the treasury department.

Suspects in Custody

The men under arrest are:

In Kansas City:

Angelo Donnici, about 64, known locally as the "mayor of Ninth street" and operator of a saloon in the shadow of a temporary federal building housing the districts courts and the district attorney's office.

Jack Colburn, about 40, uniformed patrolman of the police department.

Mike Carsi, about 25, a saloon keeper at 230 West 12th street.

Charles Crapisi, 43, considered by Anslinger to be a "very important dealer."

Jack Ancona, about 50, arrested at the Union Station by under-cover men who had made an appointment with him.

James Abbott, 40, a 450-pound giant known among under-cover

Judge Resigns Under Inquiry

WASHINGTON, April 12—(P)—President Roosevelt today accepted the resignation of Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas of Connecticut.

A presidential secretary announced Thomas had resigned in a letter dated April 6 and that the President accepted the resignation, effective immediately, in a letter today.

Officials recalled Thomas sometime ago had been summoned as a witness in connection with the McKesson and Robbins Drug Company case.

Attorney General Murphy issued this statement:

"It is well known that for a number of weeks the financial affairs of Judge Thomas, and his action in certain cases, have been under investigation by John T. Cahill, U. S. attorney for the southern district of New York, and a special grand jury. The nature of the evidence adduced has not been made public.

"Due to a recent attack of illness, Judge Thomas is at present under the care of a physician. The resignation has made it unnecessary to give further consideration to the question of impeachment. The grand jury will continue its investigation."

Thomas was brought into the McKesson and Robbins investigation February 4, when the justice department ordered him to return immediately from a Latin American cruise to appear before a federal grand jury in New York.

At that time, Gregory Noonan, United States attorney, said Thomas was summoned home in connection with "federal matters," including the McKesson-Robbins case and the investigation of Circuit Judge Martin T. Manton.

Two weeks later, Thomas was ordered by Federal Judge John C. Knox to turn over to the grand jury his bank accounts and other records dating back to 1932.

Scheduled to appear before the grand jury on March 7, he entered the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute of Hartford, Conn., suffering from what officials described as "a serious nervous disorder" and the grand jury examination was postponed.

Speaker's Club to Meet On Thursday Night

The Sedalia Speaker's club will hold its weekly meeting Thursday night, April 13th at the Sedalia public library.

Pat Handley will be program chairman for the evening and the speakers will be Frank Hanigan, E. W. Kettleson and E. W. Thomson.

Capt. Eugene Hansman will deliver the criticism.

Beauty Contest Entrant Slain

Attacked and murdered by an assailant who threw her body under a speeding train, according to a coroner's verdict, was 19-year-old Lois Patricia Tryon, above, farm girl of Mount Morris, N. Y., and candidate for Apple Blossom queen of western New York state.

House Bill Would Cut Fair Revenue

$54,370 Is Sliced From Amount Asked By Omnibus Measure

The Missouri State Fair here was awarded $120,000 from general revenue funds in an appropriation bill introduced in the house at Jefferson City Tuesday by Rep. John D. Taylor (D.), Keytesville, head of the House appropriations committee.

This allotment compared with $174,370 asked and $121,839.50 for the last biennium. The bill also carried $261,210 for the fair from earnings and fees and $10,986 to make up a deficiency.

C. W. Green, secretary of the fair, said that the extra amount asked for the 1939-40 period was to make possible an increase in premiums and to care for necessary repairs and replacements on the fair grounds.

He also stated that the actual deficiency last year was $4,360, not $10,986 as listed in the bill. Mr. Green said that higher premiums would attract better livestock to the State Fair and would enable the management to improve the livestock exhibits.

Approximately $6,700 was turned back to the state out of the $121,399.50 allotted to the fair last year, Mr. Green said.

The appropriation for the state fair was included in an omnibus measure allotting $5,052,000 from general revenue for a variety of purposes.

The measure also carried $90,000 from general revenue and $35,000 from insurance funds to enable the insurance department to refund $1,750,000 impounded funds in the 16 2-3 per cent fire insurance rate case to policyholders. The funds were awarded 100 per cent to the policyholders by the state supreme court.

Grand Jury At The County Home

Numerous witnesses were called before the grand jury, meeting at the court house, today. They came, entered the grand jury room, and left without making comment, as all investigations relative to any crime conditions are secret.

At noon the members of the grand jury and county court were guests of Mrs. James Roberts, superintendent of the county home, at the home. While there the men made the regular grand jury inspection of the place.

Bankhead Advised To Forego Political Career

WASHINGTON, April 12—(P)—Speaker William B. Bankhead (D-Ala) the only man in recent years to hold the three top-ranking party positions in the house, recalled with a smile today his father had discouraged his entrance into politics.

It was Bankhead's sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. Puffing on a cigarette, he recounted his 22 years in congress and said with a twinkle in his eyes:

"You know, my father advised his sons not to go into politics, although it may have many pleasant features. He said a man in congress can't be a free man—he can't accumulate any competence."

But that didn't stop either William Bankhead or his brother John. The former was succeeded to the house in 1917 and eventually

Federal Agent Raps Police Of Kansas City

Others Stress The Need Of Change To State Control

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12—(P)—A federal immigration officer with experience across the nation told the house judiciary committee last night "the Kansas City police department is the worst metropolitan force I've ever come in contact with."

The agent, Walter H. Bliss, recited his findings of vice, crime and gambling in Kansas City as one of a long list of witnesses who appeared before the committee in the packed house chamber to urge adoption of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark's effort to shift Kansas City's police from local to state control.

Earlier, Judge Allen C. Southern, who called the recent Jackson county grand jury which ground out a record of 186 indictments, estimated the annual "take" of Kansas City gamblers at $20,000,000.

"Gamblers, grafters and gangsters are unlawfully taking from the pockets of the citizens of Kansas City three times the total cost of administration of all the departments of the city and fifteen times the cost of operating the police department," he asserted.

The hearing lasted until 1:35 a. m. with many of the hundreds who jammed the house still in their chairs on the floor and galleries. Bliss prefaced his testimony with the statement that he was a Democrat, but with his next breath added:

"From what I've seen of conditions in Kansas City I'm ashamed of the Democratic party."

"I've seen 100 times since last September police officers in uniform in houses of ill fame, not closing them in line of duty, but participating in drinking and gambling," he continued.

Reported To Grand Jury

"Did you report them to their superior officers?" interrupted Rep. Edgar J. Keating (D), Kansas City.

"I did not," Bliss replied, "but I did to the Jackson county grand jury."

Rep. John D. Taylor (D), Keytesville, outspoken administration critic, asked the witness who instructed him or authorized him to appear before the committee.

"I've been on special assignment since September and I don't need any authorization," Bliss retorted. "I'm not interested in this bill except as a resident of Kansas City," and again he launched into his testimony.

"A woman I know has informed me she has two eyewitnesses who saw her son placed in a Kansas City police car 20 minutes before he was taken for his last ride. I mean killed, gentlemen."

"I have an affidavit from a man who saw murder committed. Two policemen came in, looked at the body."

"Well," they said on their way out, "you ought to know what you're doing."

The federal agent charged "the narcotic situation is unbelievable" and complained there was no police cooperation with federal authorities.

This brought further sharp interruption by Keating. Rep. W. Randall Smart (D), was the only other of the five Kansas City committee members to cross-examine the witnesses.

Bliss told of "chump houses," places where men are enticed by women and robbed. He said he had never known of exactly similar places in other cities.

"Gentlemen," he said, "a man just hasn't got a chance in a 'chump house.'"

Another federal immigration agent, P. B. Dunn, who also is stationed at Kansas City, declared "no city is worse regarding controlled vice and crime."

S-C Students To Spring Contest

Three Smith-Cotton debate students, and three speech students will go to Warrensburg to participate in the spring contest Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Jimmy Myers, from the sophomore class, will be the pivot man for the debate team by debating both sides of the question; Oscar Scott, junior, and Jim Durely, senior, are the other members of the team.

Frank Barnes Long will enter boys declamation; Zepora Wasserman, girls declamation; David Glassburn, extemporaneous speaking.

The dramatics class at the high school may enter the contest but the plans for this are yet tentative.

Every school sending students is entitled to one individual contestant in music, two individuals in each year of Latin, three individuals in spelling, and each contest in commerce. One group will be entered for a school in debate, one-act play, each group music event, each contest in home economics, each division in vocational agriculture.

Fruit Damage Is Evident After Freeze

Indicated That Temperature Not Be So Low Tonight

A drop in temperature to 22 degrees above zero early this morning may have caused considerable damage to the fruit and young clover and grass in the country, farmers believed today.

There was ice this morning, but just to what extent the freeze damaged the fruit is uncertain, according to J. U. Morris, county agent.

"It is impossible to determine the damage done by a freeze so soon," said Mr. Morris, and there was a difference of opinion among the farmers. Some expressed the opinion that the peaches were all gone, others believed the damage was only slight.

Damaged By Freeze
ST. LOUIS, April 12—(P)—Missouri fruit trees were severely damaged by last night's freezing temperatures.

Frost was reported in some sections, but partly cloudy conditions prevented heavier losses. Frost is forecast for the eastern half of the state tonight, but temperatures generally will not be quite so low.

The mercury tumbled several degrees below freezing all over the state last night, reaching a low of 17 degrees at Harrisonville in Cass county. Other low readings were: Kansas City 26; Columbia 22; St. Joseph 22; St. Louis 26; Springfield 20; Maryville 18; Macon 20; Warsaw 20; Poplar Bluff 27; Arcadia 24; Lexington 24, and Hannibal 21.

Heaviest frost was reported in the Lamar and Hannibal areas.

A return to normal spring weather is expected by the last of the week.

Vegetation that survives this late cold stab should be safe for the remainder of the spring, the government weather bureau said.

This week's killing frosts and freezing temperatures severely hampered crop growth and the ground preparation throughout the state, the United States department of agriculture reported in its weekly crop bulletin today.

Prior to this week there had been considerable ground preparation for corn planting, but only a small amount has been planted.

Winter wheat is making good growth, and oats were reported sprouting in many localities. The cold snap may have damaged the latter crop to some extent.

Excessive moisture in scattered areas was causing potatoes to rot, and truck crops as a whole were set back by the unseasonal weather.

CHICAGO, April 12—(P)—Abnormally low temperatures prevailed over most of the nation east of the Rocky Mountains today.

The coldest spots were Park Falls, Wis., Bemidji, Minn., and Aberdeen, S. D., each with eight above zero. The mercury dropped to the low 20s in northern Ohio and a blizzard whipped that section, including Cleveland.

Freezing temperatures extended as far south as the Texas Panhandle, also into northern Oklahoma, northern Arkansas, and northwestern Tennessee.

In the east it was below freezing from Portland, Me., north and snow fell in Pittsburgh, Buffalo and northern New England.

New York City had a low of 38. Temperatures were progressively higher from there southward, Norfolk, Va., reporting 48; Wilmington, Del., 60; Jacksonville, Fla. 66, and Miami, 72.

Chicago's minimum of 21 at 5 a. m. was seven degrees below the previous record for April 12, recorded in 1900.

Since yesterday there has been snow in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, flurries in Chicago and northern Illinois and in the other Great Lakes states.

Offer Crown To King Of Italy

Four Point Program Proposed For Albania Region

TIRANA, April 12—(P)—The Albanian national assembly today offered the crown of this Adriatic kingdom to King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy for "a personal union" of the two nations.

The assembly, which was convoked to set up a new regime under the Italian military occupation of Albania, adopted a four-point program providing for a new organization of the country.

The points were:

1. The former regime of King Zog I., has fallen and its constitution is abrogated.

2. The new government is to be named by the assembly.

3. Albania and Italy are to be "associated more intimately."

4. The crown is offered to Vittorio Emanuele "for his majesty and for his loyal descendants."

Thus the appearance of outright annexation of Albania by Italy was avoided, leaving the little kingdom some vestige of independence.

However, the transfer of the crown from Zog to the Italian king-emperor and acknowledgment of "a personal union" brought Albania effectively under the Fascist rule of Premier Mussolini.

It came as Italian troops occupied points at Albania's Yugoslav and Greek borders.

A motion adopted by the assembly said:

"The assembly declared that all Albanians, remembering a and grateful for the constructive work by il Duce and by Fascist Italy for the development and prosperity of Albania, decides to associate more intimately the life and destiny of Albania with the life and destiny of Italy."

A detachment of Italian troops in trucks reached the Yugoslav frontier at Koplik, north of the Albanian Adriatic port, Scutari, as the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, arrived by airplane to represent Premier Mussolini at the assembly.

Credit School On Thursday Night

The Credit School for business and professional people and their employees will be held Thursday night, April 13th at Hotel Bothwell from 7:30 to 9:00. This will be the second session of the school which is under the supervision of the State Department of Education and which is open to all interested persons without any expense in connection with attendance.

The following subjects under the heading of "Controlling the Account" and including practical demonstrations, will be covered at the meeting. Authorizing purchases, passing on charge purchases, identifying the customer, special problems of credit control, credit sales promotion and reviving inactive account.

Senate Rejects Added Fund To Go To WPA

Measure Goes To White House To Meet Approval

WASHINGTON, April 12—(P)—A $100,000,000 emergency relief bill was on its way to the white house today assured of presidential approval, although it is $50,000,000 less than Mr. Roosevelt requested.

The senate passed the measure without dissent last night after rejecting, 49 to 28, an amendment by Senator Pepper (D-Fla) to increase the sum by $50,000,000.

The fight over Pepper's proposal brought a sharp split in administration ranks. Democratic Leader Barkley supported the $100,000,000 allocation, and told the senate he had agreed on that figure with a group of administration followers, economy-minded Democrats, and Republicans.

If he lacked courage to bear his share of responsibility for the undertaking, Barkley said, senate Democrats should choose another leader.

Not Alarmed in Spending
"I think my record of the last six years shows that I'm not frightened at federal spending," the Kentuckian shouted to an attentive chamber. "If I had it in my power, I would order that $150,000,000 be appropriated."

Barkley disclosed the president shortly would ask congress for a $150,000,000 WPA appropriation for the year beginning July 1.

It was learned today that the house committee investigating the WPA would turn its spotlight first on the Worker's Alliance. Informed legislators said the committee had subpoenaed David Lasser, head of the relief workers' organization, to testify next Monday on its operations and scope.

Air Patrol On Britain's Coast

LONDON, April 12—(P)—An authoritative source said today that Great Britain had started an all-night air patrol of her east coast as an extraordinary precaution against attack.

This action, which the air ministry refused to confirm but did not deny, was reported to have been taken merely as a precautionary measure, and not because British officials believed the country was in imminent danger of attack.

Air ministry officials said: "We are always having exercises along the coast but there is nothing new in that."

The reported patrol was believed to be part of an intensive drive to tighten British home defenses.

Anti-aircraft defenses of London have been almost doubled since the September German-Czechoslovak crisis.

Gambler Dead; Bullet In Head

KANSAS CITY, Kas., April 12—(P)—The pajama-clad body of Andrew E. (Andy) Shirk, Kansas City gambler, was found today in his apartment, a bullet through his brain.

William A. Patterson, who had lived with Shirk in a modest apartment the last four months, said his roommate had been brooding since a Jackson county, Missouri grand jury closed gambling places along Kansas City's Twelfth street "gambler's row."

Police said powder burns on the right side of Shirk's head indicated the bullet had been fired at close range. Detectives found $155 in cash and $50 in express money orders in his clothes.

Dr. Lawrence E. Gowney, Wyandotte county coroner, would give no official verdict in the case.

Police said they were inclined to believe Shirk, in constant fear that he would be drawn into the investigation of gambling in Kansas City, Mo., committed suicide.

'Show Of Strength' As 'Stop Gap' On Aggression

WASHINGTON, April 12—(P)—President Roosevelt's warm endorsement of a declaration that "free nations" of the world should make a deliberate show of strength to prevent war coincided today with evidences of senatorial agreement on temporary neutrality legislation.

Opposing senate forces, which long have disputed whether neutrality legislation attained its end or actually bred foreign troubles, seemed to be almost agreed on stop-gap re-enactment of the expiring "cash and carry" clause of the present neutrality act.

Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday at his press conference that an editorial in the Washington Post (independent) was good, clear and honest in saying, among other things, that "nothing less than a

'Not Guilty' Is Verdict In Case of Fred Ross

Attorney Acquired On Subornation of Perjury Charge

A verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury. The jurors retired for consideration of the case at 3:04 o'clock, at 3:20 they announced they were ready, but waited until the judge returned to the bench to read the verdict.

In the Pettis county circuit court room, where he has represented many persons as their lawyer, Fred M. Ross took the role of a defendant today and went to trial on a charge of subornation of perjury. The state charges him with inducing 18 year old Virginia Marlin, daughter of Sheriff W. L. Marlin to testify falsely in the trial of a lawsuit last December.

The case was one filed by Joseph M. O'Connell against Sheriff Marlin and bonding company, the National Surety Company, asking for damages, alleging he was abused by the officer and held in jail without cause.

The state's only witness was Miss Marlin. She gave her age as 18, her address as 4515 McMillan, St. Louis, and said she is a student nurse at the Missouri Baptist hospital, that city.

She testified that with reference to the case previously mentioned Mr. Ross, her father's attorney, and her father visited her in St. Louis and told her they did not believe it would be necessary for her to be a witness, that they hoped not to have to call Mrs. Amy Marlin, divorced wife of the sheriff, nor either of their daughters, Miss Martha nor Miss Virginia. Later, she testified, Mr. Ross called her on the phone, said that the deposition of her sister Martha had been taken, that she had "told everything," it meant Marlin would be "in a crack" and asked permission to come to St. Louis to talk to her.

Her testimony was that Mr. Ross and her father visited her in St. Louis and Mr. Ross persuaded her to testify falsely in the case, to counteract the statements made in the deposition of her sister Martha. She said that he told her it would go hard with her father because her mother and sister were going to give damaging testimony. Her answer to that was, she said, that their statements were true, but because she was led to believe it would ruin her father, he would have to reimburse her.

The injured, son and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Strode, who live on a farm near here, were brought to the McCleary Sanitarium and clinic for treatment.

None of the injuries was critical.

The accident occurred two and three-fourths miles west of here as Strode was taking the children to the Crescent Lake school. The truck had almost crossed the rails when it was struck by the train.

All three of the injured were riding in the front seat. The bed of the truck was torn off and thrown 57 feet from the crossing. The chassis of the vehicle was spun around and headed in the opposite direction.

The train continued to Kansas City after being delayed a half hour.

We Must Be More Than Shocked

Americans read with a shudder of distaste the news that all German children must hereafter, from the age of 10, be members of the Hitler Youth, and go through a series of prescribed training courses which lead directly into the army. We have seen the pictures of tiny Italian children of 6 making their baby-like efforts to imitate the chest-puffing, chin-throwing, wild-eyed gestures they have been taught to admire.

We have jittered a little at the thought of what these children will be when they grow up, never having learned anything but the "might-is-right" philosophy which was already old to their cave-man ancestors hundreds of thousands of years ago.

But we would do well to shudder and jitter a little less at these things, and to pay more attention to our own youth problem. To say that we do not wish any such regimentation as so repels us abroad is not enough.

Let us never forget that the Nazi movement was largely a youth movement. The mass of its followers came from the ranks of the millions of young fellows who came back from the war to a disorganized civil life in which they found no place, and from the ranks of students and other young people who soon joined them in misery and discontent as the schools poured them forth and civil life offered no future.

Americans do not like to admit that they have a "youth problem." We are prone to think of "youth" as just like anybody else, only younger. It is not quite so.

Dr. Caroline B. Zachry of the Progressive Education Association has made a five-year study of American boys and girls, and finds a depressing situation.

"There is no place for youth in industry, in the professions, or in other areas," Dr. Zachry says. "As a result, we now ask the young people to go back and remain children until we are ready for them."

As a consequence, Dr. Zachry found that our boys and girls, afraid that they cannot be absorbed by society in a constructive capacity, are just shuffling along, without any sort of philosophy, without any hope for the future, apathetic, with a defeatist, hopeless feeling.

They are ready, Dr. Zachry feels, to listen to any Hitler-like leader who promises something better.

Perhaps that is too dark a picture. We may hope so.

But hoping is not enough. Every plan or proposal that offers to young people a better future than this needs to be examined, and if promising, to be pressed forward.

What these young people will be 20 years from today, the country will be.

Europe would be an ideal place for Daniel Boone. Every day it has new frontiers.

No married men are wanted under the new expansion program. They use up their fighting energy at home.

The Nazi government has a public debt of $11,243,920,000. It also owes a few apologies.

When the U. S. capitol's lighting system failed, it was simply a case of the law of averages. Usually Washington has us in the dark.

'Less Heart And Feeling'

Note the progress of the past 20 years: In 1914, people really believed that international codes had been devised which might eliminate the worst horrors of war, codes condemning poison gas, slaughter of non-combatants, bombing of unfortified cities, killing of prisoners. Today, all these are accepted as an inevitable part of modern war.

In 1914, it was generally believed that "international law" assured certain rights to neutrals. Today it is generally agreed that neutrals have no rights which anyone at war will respect.

Thus we progress. Tracy Strong, general secretary of the world committee of the Y. M. C. A., considering plans for "Y" service in another war, even doubts that there will be any prison camps.

"If the policy of warfare in the east is carried out, there will be none," he says. "There will be much less heart and human feeling in another war."

Unfortunately every day brings new proof that Strong is right.

Three Thousand Years

There is nothing like studying the past. It is, as lots of smart men have said, the only guide to the future.

Thus it is that Italian scholars have added an imperishable bit of knowledge to what we know of the past. Perhaps it is a good guide to the future.

It was an ancient and precious bit of Egyptian papyrus they had found, dating back to 1300 B. C., about 3000 years old. For 10 years, with furrowed brows and aching eyes, they studied the mysterious papyrus. Again and again they believed they had a clue to its mysteries, and again and again they were baffled. The message escaped them, the symbols would not jell into words.

Then finally came the day of triumph. Whether the scientist cried "Eureka!" we do not know, but suddenly the key came to him. He was able at last to read the message of the papyrus.

It was a list of taxes to be levied on the inhabitants of a Lybian desert oasis.

Republicans are holding a series of Washington dinners to introduce presidential candidates. When the guests get tired of the speech, they pass the celery.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Inside explanation of why London got a case of the jitters last week over a rumored German air raid would be amusing had it not been so grim.

It will be recalled that Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, let it slip that naval anti-aircraft gunners were being kept on duty because of the fear of a German air raid.

It has now been reported by U. S. intelligence services that behind this was a grim joke played on the British by the Germans. The latter let a British observer, whom they knew to be a spy, see an array of German planes warming up, supposedly for a take-off to London. Information was dropped to this observer that there were 600 of them.

Naturally, he reported this to London at once—just as the Nazis expected him to do. Result: The British spent a sleepless night. So also did U. S. officials in the State and Navy Departments. They had received the same report, relayed from London, and stayed up worrying over it.

Grimmest part of the joke was that there were only 17 anti-aircraft guns to defend the city of London.

Sell-Blondie Axis
When Italian forces invaded Albania, Germany's genial newsman Kurt Sell met Italy's noble newsman, Count Leone Fumasoni Bondi, at a State Department press conference.

Apparently bewildered over the news, German Sell said to Italian Bondi, "I don't understand the reason for this invasion. Can you explain it to me?"

Bondi replied: "I guess we're trying to imitate you fellows."

War Hangs In Balance
For at least ten days, State Department observers have been at a loss to appraise the possibilities of war. This applies to officials at the top as well as those toward the bottom.

To many, war hung in the balance. The belated but prodigious effort of the British to stop Hitler, they felt, might finally stop him.

To others, however, it seemed that actually war had begun—not the old fashioned war, where troops mobilized and declarations of war were issued, but the modern, streamlined war, where a government jumps in with lightning moves when the bolt is least expected.

The swallowing of Czechoslovakia may have been the first step in such a war, and the invasion of Albania may be equivalent to the Austrian attack upon Serbia in 1914.

Where the next bolt will strike, no one can predict, but officials are most jittery over three bolts which could be launched at any moment. They are:

1. An attack by Mussolini on the French in Tunis or in French Somaliland (Djibouti).

2. A squeeze play on Rumania, the Hungarians attacking from the northwest and the Bulgars from the south—with German support.

3. A German air attack on Great Britain.

Experts describe the Rome-Berlin tactics as those of a boxer—a lead with the left, then a blow with the right, and so on. On March 1 Hitler led with the invasion of Czechoslovakia; Mussolini followed with the invasion of Albania.

Most official observers believe the two dictators won't stop there, though some hope that Hitler now will be content with merely wearing down British nerves by fake air raids until next fall.

Albanian Minister
For the representative of a small country, few diplomats have cut a more important niche in Washington than Faik Bey Konitza, Minister of the beleaguered government of Albania.

This is Konitza's 13th year of service in Washington, but that, he maintains, is not the reason for Albania's present luck. During those 13 years Konitza has become renowned for his cooking, respected for his knowledge, and loved for himself.

Konitza prepares a meal as a great poet shapes a poem. He goes into the country to pick his own lamb. He selects his wine with the loving care of Roosevelt carving a wild turkey. His coffee he roasts personally, then grinds by hand. Grocery stores, he claims do not know how to do it.

Permitted more than one wife by his Mohammedan faith, Konitza is unmarried.

Hitherto his best friends have been Italians. Frequently he entertained members of the Italian Embassy, always asked for the services of an Italian waiter at his hotel.

Now he feels that Italy has "struck down the Sermon on the Mount and substituted the law of the jungle." But most of all he decries the forcing of a two-day-old baby (the Crown Prince of Albania) and his sick mother to flee the country.

"That poor baby," Konitza kept repeating while his country was being bombarded, "that poor baby, God Almighty in his inscrutable design has deprived the Italians of all sense of chivalry."

Cool Poles
One inside fact to be remembered about the Polish-British alliance is that it is of much greater value to the British than to the Poles. The British would not have you think that, but it is the case. The Poles have an army of 700,000 men, the British have a mere defense force. The Polish army could keep the Nazis busy for some time, but the British would have no way of getting to Germany to help the Poles except by invading Holland. That would take time. Meanwhile the Poles could be alone in the lurch.

The papers didn't mention it right away, but after Polish Foreign Minister Beck drew up the alliance with Britain, he hesitated about signing. Reasons were those stated above.

Capital Chaff
If the Italian Embassy should ask the Albanian Minister to surrender his legation, it would be asking for a suite of rooms at the Mayflower Hotel. Resolute Minister Faik Konitza would be defending not only his country's integrity but also a fine "cellar" of liquor stored in his bathroom.....

Wagner Act defenders secretly plan to counter the demand for amendments with one of their own, to this effect: That violations of the Act be classed as felonies and be punished by jail sentences or fines or both. Under the present law there is no punishment for guilty employers.....

Oddest election of the year is General Jose Estigarribia, Paraguay's Minister to Washington. Now, at the height of the campaign, the General is not in Asuncion but in Washington, and he will remain here until long after the election.

"Pole Setting"
Ever hear of a "pole setting?" It's a new kind of ceremony that farmers stage to celebrate the bringing of electricity to their communities by the Rural Electrification Administration. When the first transmission pole is put in place, the farmers dedicate it with speeches and a picnic.

At a jollification in Champaign County, Illinois, the pole was "christened" by smashing an old kerosene lamp against it. Christener was Vic Swanson, 90-year-old father of the president of the REA cooperative that built the project. The elder Swanson came to Illinois in 1864 and, thanks to the REA, will have electric light in his home for the first time in his life.

In Nicholasville, Ky., the feature of the "pole setting" was the mock burial of an old oil lamp in an elaborate coffin with one of the town belles delivering the "funeral oration."

Inspiration
It's a long, tough road from a Colorado health farm to Congress, but Representative John D. Dingell of Detroit, former printer, made it, and he gives much of the credit to an inspirational newspaper article.

In 1916 Dingell, at 22, was broken in health at a printer's hospital in Colorado Springs. One day in a newspaper sent by his family in Detroit, he noticed an article entitled: "What will you be doing 20 years from now?"

Amid a glossary of possible occupations was one reading: "U. S. Congressman." Dingell underscored it, and from that day knew no other ambition. In 1932, four years ahead of schedule, he rode into Congress on the same ticket with a man who also overcame great physical affliction to become President of the United States.

Peppery and 45, his health fully mended, Dingell today is serving his fourth term. He tweaks the edges of his black moustache reminiscently as he ponders, on the wall of his office and underscored with red crayon, the stimulus that 23 years ago changed the course of his life.

Serial Story
'MRS. DOC' BY TOM HORNER

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

Yesterday, Emily's test comes when she helps a sick woman to the hospital. There she meets Alan, who is admiring. But there is no time to talk, since Alan is called to operate.

CHAPTER XXIII
ALAN turned from her. Emily saw the light of the elevator moving upward as she reached the door. Not knowing why she did it, but knowing that she wanted to be near him, Emily followed, walking slowly up the stairs. No one stopped her.

No wonder Alan loved this little hospital; so quiet, so peaceful. Like a cathedral. White-clad nurses walked swiftly to and fro, making no sound. No one paid any attention to Emily.

Second floor. Surgical, the sign read. The clean odor of disinfectant and medicines and sterile cleanliness. The sound of a child-like laugh. Whispered conversations. Signs on doors—"No visitors."

Third floor. Medical. The faint sound of a dietitian's cart as it rolled along the corridor. How different this was from the bustle of the St. Louis hospitals she had known. The one where Alan had interned, with the loud speaker constantly blaring out the name of some doctor.

Fourth floor. Maternity. So strangely still. The faint sound of a radio. She could see young Billy Bower pacing up and down in front of the glass doors of the sun porch, at the end of the hall. Farrell's old joke of "never having lost a father" came to her mind. It had seemed funny when she had first heard it, but it was so tragically real now. Poor lad, maybe she could help him.

Bower was glad to see her. "How's Angela? The baby?" he asked anxiously.

"Angela is all right," Emily reassured him. "You won't have long to wait. Dr. Warren and Dr. Farrell are with her. Just take things easy. Here, have a cigaret."

"Gee, thanks." His hands shook as he held the match. "You think she'll be all right?"

"Of course, she will. There's nothing to worry about."

He resumed his pacing, back and forth across the floor. After a while he stopped.

"You're sure Angela's all right, Mrs. Doc?" he asked. "Gee if anything happened to her—she's all I've got."

Emily knew now why Alan was so devoted to his practice. She could share this thrill with him. She, too, had a part, however small, in the beginning of this life. She would never forget it.

She shut her eyes. She could see Alan's face, as if it were close to her. The lips, set in a thin line, that hinted at a smile. The eyes, dark, steady, earnest.

It was this—this being close to God—that gave Alan, and Farrell, and all other doctors in the world, that understanding of human ills, and of human needs. No wonder

• Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good manners to complain continually about a grievance?

2. Does a gracious hostess watch her guests like a hawk to see that they don't leave a burned cigarette on a prized piece of furniture?

3. Should a hostess gossip with a guest about a person who has previously been a guest in her home?

4. Does a smart hostess do her best to make her husband shine at their parties?

5. If a buffet supper guest upssets a cup of coffee on the rug, should the hostess show that she is disturbed about it?

What would you do if—
You are a hostess who had planned for your guests to play games—but they seem to be enjoying talking and don't seem very enthusiastic when you mention games—

(a) Forget the games?
(b) Insist upon playing games?
(c) Ask who wants to play games?

Answers
1. No.
2. No. She puts ashtrays everywhere—and that is the most she can do.
3. No. It makes the guest fear he will be the next victim of her tongue.
4. Yes.
5. No. No matter how badly she feels.

Pleaded Guilty On A Check Charge

W. S. Brent, Warrensburg pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs in the Justice court of Jas. C. Connor Monday, for giving a bogus check for $5 to Fred A. Kueck.

He was arrested in Warrensburg Sunday. Brent entered a plea of guilty through Constable Forrest Pointexter, who made the arrest, paid his fine and costs and made good the check.

Files Divorce Suit

A divorce suit was filed in the circuit clerk's office Tuesday afternoon by Elaine Gehlken against John Gehlken charging non-support.

They were married September 1, 1935. Jack L. Jolly is attorney for the plaintiff.

Nothing is going to happen to Angela, Billy," Emily spoke as if to a child. "Get that idea out of your mind. She'll be downstairs in a few minutes. Now stop worrying."

"Mrs. Doc, could you go up there with her?" he pleaded. "They won't let me—told me to stay here. She's all alone, she needs somebody there. They'll let you down."

"If it will calm you down any, I'll go," Emily answered. The superintendent or the floor nurse might order her to leave, but Bower wouldn't know that, and it might quiet his fears. Besides, she was irresistibly drawn toward the delivery room. The same compelling force had made her leave the waiting room, downstairs.

She left Bower, pacing again, and walked back to the stairway. Up another flight. She disregarded the sign that warned all visitors off the fifth floor. Delivery Room B, she remembered. That must be it, across the hall. The door was open, a mere fraction of an inch. She leaned against the wall.

President Says Stark 'Mentioned' Pendergast

WASHINGTON, April 12—(AP)—Reports that Governor Lloyd C. Stark of Missouri gave President Roosevelt the tip that led to indictment of T. J. Pendergast, Democratic boss of Kansas City, gained strength when the president told reporters that Stark had mentioned the Kansas City investigation to him on one occasion.

Pendergast was indicted recently on a charge of evading federal income taxes on $315,000.

Asked specifically whether Stark had discussed the subject with him, the President replied that he had referred him to the treasury, which investigates tax cases.

Dark Horse Candidate
Stark, who has been mentioned by friends as a possible appointee to the Roosevelt cabinet, as opponent of Democratic Senator Truman in 1940 or even a dark horse Democratic presidential candidate, was elected governor in 1936 with Pendergast support.

He broke with the Kansas City organization leader subsequently, refusing to reappoint R. E. O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, who was indicted been in a hospital there where she underwent a major operation. Mrs. Rogers is recovering nicely and hopes to be up and around in a short while.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hamlin, of Leavenworth, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Stedman spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Hamlin.

Rev. Bryson, former Windsor pastor, and family, of Columbia, were the week-end guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. R. Timbrook. Rev. Bryson delivered the Easter sermon at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

Earle Fristoe left Saturday for a business trip to Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Fristoe went to Lexington to assist her sister.

R. E. Major and daughter, Miss Catherine and Major Douglas had as their guests Sunday, Mrs. Frank Douglas, Ora Annis and with Pendergast last Friday. Governor Stark, who is coming here to attend the banquet of the Gridiron Club Saturday night, has been invited by Representative Cannon (D-Mo.) to attend a luncheon Friday at the capitol with Missouri members of congress.

Clark-Stark Dilemma
Talk of Stark being a possible dark horse candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940 has aroused much speculation of view of sentiment for Senator Clark's being the Missouri "favorite son" in the next Democratic national convention.

Politicians here agree that, if an effort were made to pledge Missouri's delegates for the governor, a furious controversy would ensue, with Pendergast men opposing the idea bitterly.

Stark is operator of the vast nurseries at Louisiana, Mo., which bear the family name. He is a graduate of the naval academy at Annapolis, and served in the navy for several years before resigning to take over management of the nurseries. He was a major of artillery in the World War, and still is widely known in Missouri as Major Stark.

Harold Douglas, Edith Smarr, Harold Vanderpool, Larry Gilpin, John Strong all of Columbia, Karl Gabel, of Moberly and Lola Fallon, of Sullivan, Mo., part of this group are members of the Village Choir, they attended the cantata here at the Methodist church and were very complimentary of the rendition and the very capable director, Mrs. Milam.

S. S. Nelson and family, of Belton, came Sunday and spent the day with his sister, Mrs. F. J. Webb and Mr. Webb.

Dealers And Agents Of Sinclair Co. Meet

A meeting of dealers and agents from five surrounding towns, of the Sinclair Refining company, was held Tuesday night at the St. Francis hotel.

General sales policies were outlined at the meeting, conducted by Robert Cunningham and J. D. Lander, both of Kansas City, and G. A. Potter, of Sedalia.

Those attending were from: Warrensburg, Sedalia, Tipton, Warsaw and Marshall.

Standard Has Golden Jubilee

A sound film address, "Our Fifty Years," by E. G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Co., featured a golden jubilee celebration by dealers in this area of that company Tuesday night at Convention Hall in Liberty Park.

Other speakers were, F. H. Fillingham, assistant general manager, of Chicago; H. E. Purdy, assistant manager wholesale; J. A. Pearson, assistant manager retail; J. A. Fisher, advertising representative; W. B. Egbert, sales promotion retail, and J. W. Wilson, manager.

Oscar L. Scott, of Sedalia, opened the meeting and introduced Mr. Wilson, who was in charge of the program.

J. S. Colvert, of Marshall, who has been with the company since its beginning and June K. King, also of Marshall, who has been a purchaser of Standard products for the last 45 years, were introduced.

Two motion pictures, illustrating the making of an advertisement and service station operation, were shown.

Preceding the meeting there was a dinner at the Hotel Bothwell with approximately 175 persons attending.

Pettis Y. D. C. Picks Delegates

Thirty delegates to the Sixth district convention of Young Democratic clubs on Saturday, April 22, in Warrensburg, were elected at a meeting of the Pettis county club Tuesday night in

Little Change In Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 12.—(AP)—Wheat trading returned to a slow pace today and prices were stabilized in a narrow 1/4 cent range.

Buying from milling and baking interests helped to steady the market, offsetting the favorable crop outlook, but most dealers were on the sidelines awaiting European developments.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent lower to 1/4 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 65¢ to 68¢; July 68¢ to 69¢; corn 3/4 to 1/4 cent higher. May 47¢, July 49¢ to 49 1/2¢; oats 3/4 to 1/4 cent higher.

Uptown Today and Thursday Mae West in 'Every Day's A Holiday' at

Mae's a brunette in 'Every Day's a Holiday'

Beautiful Mae West is a blonde and a brunette in "Every Day's a Holiday." In the above picture you see her as both. In order to steer clear of the police, who are after her for selling the Brooklyn bridge once too often, Mae becomes a brunette. It's all done with a black wig, etc., but the result is positively startling. So much so that Mae's friends advised her to become a brunette in forthcoming pictures. Mae also acquired a French accent in this picture, when she impersonates a leading French actress. Among her boy friends are Edmund Lowe, Walter Catlett, Charles Butterworth, Charles Winnick, Lloyd Nolan and Chester Conklin. Companion feature to the Mae West picture is "Mexicali Kid" starring Jack Randall, the newest Singing Cowboy star.

Sergeant Madden Hims elf!

In "Sergeant Madden," coming to the Liberty theatre Friday and Saturday, Wallace Beery returns to the type of role which he made famous in "The Champ" and "The Big House." The new picture casts him as a lovable but two-fisted police sergeant. It is a part which might have been made to order for him because Beery is himself the son of a Kansas City policeman and knows all the rules of the "beat." Tom Brown, Alan Curtis and the talented newcomer Laraine Johnson have prominent supporting roles.

Now It's Swingtime For 'Ole Man River'

Old man river has gone swing!

The Mississippi may keep on rolling, just as it has in thousands of time-honored folk songs, but it will have to roll to swingtime after the nation has seen "St. Louis Blues," the picture opening Tuesday at the Liberty theatre. For "St. Louis Blues," the new Dorothy Lamour vehicle, while taking place on a showboat, is up-to-the-minute enough to concern the experiences of a Broadway celebrity who runs away from

Fear Shutdown In Coal Fields

Threat From John L. Lewis Of The Mine Workers

NEW YORK, April 12.—(P)—A complete shutdown of the nation's coal industry was threatened today, with a consequent shortage and price increase.

John L. Lewis, CIO chairman and president of the United Mine Workers, made the threat yesterday when contract negotiations with Appalachian soft coal operators reached a seeming deadlock.

Underway since March 14 with little apparent progress, the negotiations were scheduled to be resumed today.

Prices of soft coal for industrial use already have risen as a result of the shutdown in the Appalachian fields, following expiration on March 31 of the old two-year labor contract, Pittsburgh reports said.

The Appalachian region produces 70 per cent of the nation's soft coal, and its 338,000 miners are idle. Some 150,000 other miners outside the Appalachian field—in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Colorado and other states—are continuing work under special agreements.

Threat By Lewis
Expressing belief the operators were attempting to "destroy the United Mine Workers to please labor-hating interests," John Lewis threatened yesterday to cancel those special agreements on 15 days' notice.

He also implied the union might force a shutdown in the anthracite industry by calling out 120,000 hard coal miners.

Pointing out the anthracite contract expires April 30, Lewis added significantly:

"So, if the bituminous operators through their stupid policy will be satisfied with nothing less than war in the industry, the United Mine Workers will be able to accommodate them and protect themselves."

In response, Charles O'Neill of New York, spokesman for the subcommittee of four operators meeting with four miners, said the operators had offered to renew the expired contract "at the highest rates of pay and shortest hours of any comparable or basic industry."

Lewis indicated that proposal would be acceptable only if the operators would grant a closed shop or elimination of strike penalties from district agreements. He emphasized the UMW had agreed to drop 26 other demands.

C. E. Smith of the National Bituminous Coal Commission in Huntington, W. Va., predicted a national coal shortage would result if the present deadlock continues ten days or two weeks longer.

• Obituary

Miss Eula Layne
Following an illness of less than a week Miss Eula Layne, of 307 West Fifth street, passed away at 4:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Bothwell hospital where she was taken after being stricken with a sudden illness.

Miss Layne was born in Cooper county near Ottumwa the daughter of Alexander and Frances Layne and when a small girl united with the Baptist church with which denomination she continued actively until her death.

In 1921 she came to Sedalia and since had made her home on West Fifth street.

Surviving are the following brothers and sister: Leslie Layne, of Ottumwa, Mrs. Edna Oman, Kansas City, David Layne, Buncombe, and Miss Myrtle Layne of the home address. Both her parents preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Gillespie Funeral Home the Rev. R. W. Leazer, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which she was a member, to officiate.

Palbearers will be Walker Boulevard, William Glasgow, Oscar Keck, and Robert Oman, of Sedalia, J. H. Gunn, of Ottumwa, and Frank A. Miller, of Centralia. Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Stella Stearns
Friends in Sedalia have been apprised of the death in Arroya Grande, Calif., of Mrs. Stella Stearns, widow of Frank Stearns, a former foreman in the Democrat's composing rooms up to about thirty-five years ago, and who passed away here many years ago.

Mrs. Stearns will be remembered by many of the older residents of the city.

Her death occurred the middle of March and funeral and burial was held in Arroya Grande. A sister, Mrs. Ed. Lamb, of Parsons, Kas., a former Sedalia resident, and husband, were at Mrs. Stearns' bedside when the end came.

May Robson Hopes To Act When A Hundred
HOLLYWOOD, April 12.—(P)—May Robson, who will be 75 years old next Wednesday, will be given an "all-industry" birthday party by her employer, Jack Warner, on that day.

May said today "It's just another birthday. I expect to be acting when I'm a hundred."

Attorney Faces Subornation Of Perjury Trial

bonding company for any damages paid, if he lost the suit, she consented to testify in his behalf, although she knew it was not true.

Incident Bringing Suit
The incident over which the suit was brought occurred in January 1938, when the Marlin family were all living together at the jail. Virginia said that the testimony she gave, which she later repudiated, was to the effect that her father did not abuse O'Connell, and that he was not at any time in the office at the jail, nor did she or her sister bandage cuts on him.

She stated this morning that after giving the testimony at the prior trial she left the stand, and voluntarily went into the office of Judge Hoffman, where she related the story of being induced to testify untruthfully.

Ross' attorney, Fred F. Wesner, questioned the witness with reference to some letters which he asked to show her. She said they were her letters which she had written. He asked if it was true she had told her father a man in St. Louis had been injured in an elevator accident, lived only a few days, and left her $5000 in trust. She said it was true, that the man was Ralph Bubbis, to whom she said she had been engaged, that after being injured he told her he would never walk out of the hospital, and asked her if $5000 would help her to continue her studies in the field of medicine. He told her, she said, that he would leave it in trust, naming a man known to her as Jerry Bismarck, as trustee. This man known as Jerry, she said, talked to her several times about the trust fund, then disappeared and she had heard nothing further from him nor of the fund. That occurred, she said, back in 1937 before her parents were separated. In speaking of Ralph Bubbis the witness said he had been a very wealthy man, had his own airplane, and they often went for airplane rides together.

Jury Hearing Evidence
Members of the jury are W. B. Hertz, P. V. Harris, Lon E. Leslie, Edgar Neighbors, Milton C. Abeles, E. L. Birdsong, Vance Broyles, J. D. Downs, David Powell, Lee Feaster, Homer Beatty and Bruce Claycomb.

Two of the twenty-four regular jurors on the panel, John Lane and Claude King had been excused from the jury before this morning, and two others, Lee Blackburn and N. A. Monsees were not in court at 9 o'clock. Judge Hoffman had called the sheriff to get more men when by agreement between the defendant's counsel and Frank W. Hayes, prosecuting attorney, they chose the twelve men from a panel of twenty. The state scratched two names from the list and the defendant four instead of four and six, the usual number.

Witnesses For Defense
Witnesses for the defense were R. C. Tucker, attorney of Kansas City, Sheriff Marlin and the defendant. The former, representing the bonding company in the prior lawsuits, testified that the attorneys in the case had several conferences relative to witnesses, and as late as the night before the case was called it was not determined whether Miss Marlin would be a witness.

The sheriff denied statements purported by his daughter to have been made by him with reference to the prior trial and her testimony. Ross, testifying in his own behalf, said that he accepted the word of his client Marlin that certain facts with reference to the lawsuit were true, and that he had gone to St. Louis to discuss the matter with Miss Virginia because the sheriff had told him his daughter would substantiate his story of the facts. He denied that he had induced or persuaded her to testify falsely.

The defense closed the case about 2:15 o'clock, the instructions were read, and arguments began about 2:40 o'clock, each side to have twenty minutes in which to present arguments to the jury.

Under the court's instruction, if the jury returns a verdict it must be for conviction or acquittal, signed by all jurors. The punishment if the defendant is convicted, shall be between two and seven years in the penitentiary.

The lawsuit out of which the perjury charges grew was tried in December. After the testimony of Miss Marlin, and her denial of the same, the jury was dismissed and the case continued. Since that time a settlement has been made and the case dismissed.

mined Chamberlain upon the course.

The prime minister's reported decision was made as the entire European content resembled an armed camp.

Troops lined frontiers and officially nearly every country declared itself ready "for any eventuality."

Britain's Mediterranean fleet continued to watch from its rendezvous at Malta, near the Italian island of Sicily and the Greek island of Corfu.

France's Mediterranean fleet steamed out of the Toulon naval base under secret orders, and was believed operating under a joint command with the British units.

Call Official Of 'Ready-Mix' Concern
KANSAS CITY, April 12.—(P)—Edward L. Schneider, secretary-treasurer of the Ready Mixed Concrete Company, headed by T. J. Pendergast, was called as a witness today by the federal jury which reconvenes next Monday.

The jury investigated Pendergast's business affairs before indicting him and R. E. O'Malley last week on charges of income tax evasion in connection with Missouri's 1935 fire insurance rate settlement.

The Ready Mixed Company is one of the largest concerns headed by Kansas City's Democratic boss.

Further Moves Aim To Curb Aggression

The cabinet foreign affairs committee discussed this afternoon and a final decision will be taken by the cabinet tomorrow morning.

The high commissioners of Canada, South Africa and New Zealand and a representative of the Australian government conferred with Sir Thomas Inskip, Dominions secretary, and received a full report on international developments and an outline of the government declaration to be made tomorrow.

Under the Balkan pact, all countries in the Balkans except Bulgaria—Yugoslavia, Rumania, Turkey and Greece—are bound to defend each other against aggression from another Balkan country.

It was thought this pact might be enlarged to include attacks from any source so if Britain were called upon to support Greece all other Balkan powers would be obliged to follow.

The loophole in the projected Greece-Turkish guarantee was expected to be that Britain will reserve the right to determine when the independence of Greece is threatened.

In the British pledge to Poland the Poles decided that question. Criticized on "Another Chance"

Prime Minister Chamberlain was roundly criticized by the Liberal Press today for adopting his "another chance" policy toward Premier Mussolini of Italy in an effort to pursue his appeasement policy in the Mediterranean.

Mussolini's reported promises henceforth to preserve the Mediterranean status quo and to withdraw his legionnaires from Spain in May was said to have deterred the conciliatory attitude he expected from the dictators.

"Nothing less than a show of preponderant force will stop them, for force is the only language which they understand. But, like less exalted bullies, force is to them a real deterrent."

A direct result of Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of the "show of force" idea was a complaint from Senator Nye (R-ND) who said it demonstrated "a possible determination on the part of the president not only to join Europe but to encourage Europe to undertake war."

Nye announced he would try to amend the "cash and carry" clause to place all supplies, except arms and ammunition, on this basis. A compromise spirit was shown by Chairman Pittman (D-NeV) of the senate foreign relations committee in saying he would not oppose such an amendment.

Judgment On Tax Against Druggan

CHICAGO, April 12.—(P)—Terry Druggan, one of Chicago's prohibition era beer barons telephoned the United States attorney's office today and said he was so "broke" he couldn't even hire lawyers to contest the government's civil suit to collect $421,168.18 in income taxes and penalties.

David Bazelon, assistant prosecutor, said Druggan added that he would make no defense against the suit. Federal Judge John P. Barnes thereupon announced he would impanel a jury later today to enter a judgment of $421,168.16 against Druggan, who made no appearance.

Druggan was sentenced February 27, 1932, to 30 months in Leavenworth penitentiary on charges of evading income taxes and he served the term. Bazelon said Druggan told him he was working as a day laborer.

Find Three Shot To Death In Home

AMARILLO, Tex., April 12.—(P)—Harold C. Fowler, an employee of the federal bureau of agricultural economics, his wife, and their two small sons were found shot to death in their home today.

All were shot in the head. A small caliber pistol was in the room. An inquest was ordered, but a verdict had not been given this afternoon.

Fowler's wife was adjudged insane here March 31. County Judge J. N. Riggs, who presided at her trial, said Fowler telephoned him a few days ago and reported he had made plans to take Mrs. Fowler to a state hospital.

Her condition was not of such nature as to cause officers to keep her in custody, Judge Riggs said.

Bloody Shirts Spur Search
LOS ANGELES, April 12.—(P)—Discovery of two blood-stained shirts in a vacant lot today spurred a search for Ralph Ryan, 6, who, police were informed, disappeared on his way to school yesterday morning.

Mark Ryan, an employee of the City Bureau of Power and Light, told officers his son returned home several days ago with two pennies he said had been given him by a strange man. He was admonished not to accept gifts from strangers and the incident was forgotten.

A 12-year-old neighbor boy said he and Ralph decided to take a "short cut" over a fence. The older lad said he scaled the fence, waited on the other side several minutes and then went on to school when his companion did not follow. Ralph never reached his classroom, but his parents did not learn he was missing until he failed to return home in the afternoon.

that certain subversive elements of citizens in Kansas City have had too much influence on the police" brought sharp criticism from Committee Chairman H. P. Lauf (D) Jefferson City, another bitter foe of Gov. Stark.

"Don't you think the fact that the organization candidates received a large majority in the city election last year indicates the people are pretty well satisfied?" he queried.

"It indicates the organization is a powerful machine able to get votes and win elections," Kemp snapped back.

"And you're trying to build another organization," Lauf countered.

"Not at all," the judge answered. "I have never sought political office in my life. I took my present job with some reluctance."

"But you took it," Rep. William B. Weakley (D), Pike county, sponsor of the bill, asserted "we are confronted . . . with a slimy, stinking, cancerous mess that should be cleaned up," in opening the case of the proponents.

"Many people in Kansas City live in fear of the very instrumentality of government that should give them peace of the mind . . . the police department. This threat of fear runs through many letters I have received."

A plea for passage of the bill was made by Ellison Neel, past president of the Kansas City Bar Association.

"You've been told the God's truth about Kansas City tonight," he said. "Kansas City is being strangled to death—strangled economically and morally."

Several witnesses said that in some respects the Kansas City police performed well and Judge Southern said he thought a majority of the men on the force were "able and honest."

Others who appeared in behalf of the measure included Alex Rankin, foreman of the vice and crime probing Jackson county grand jury, F. H. Schoolcraft, a member of the jury, John T. Harding, an attorney, and H. W. Luhnow, president of the William Voelker company.

Opponents of the bill are to be heard a week from tonight.

'Appreciate Services'
JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—Attorney General Roy McKittick disclosed today the governor had instructed his special investigator, M. G. Sucrow, to aid in the prosecution of Kansas City vice cases, but reiterated other administration detectives would not work with his department.

He made public a letter to Gov. Lloyd C. Stark acknowledging Sucrow's instructions to aid the attorney general and added:

"I assure you I appreciate the services of Mr. Sucrow even at this late date."

"However, I again respectfully request that all persons under your control who participated in the investigation of the crime situation in Kansas City, and who have any knowledge of any facts, or know any persons who do have any knowledge of any facts, or know any persons who do have knowledge of any facts that would aid in the prosecution, be directed by you to give such information to me."

The first of the crime cases—outgrowth of last month's Jackson county grand jury—is set for trial in Kansas City next week.

McKittick complained Monday that Stark investigators "won't even talk to me or my assistants. I have three or four lawyers working all the time on the cases but they're having a hard time getting the evidence."

Circuit Judge Allen C. Southern who called the Jackson county grand jury, testified before the house judiciary committee last night that practically all the evidence was supplied "by four or five investigators under the employ of the governor."

A later witness, Federal Immigration Agent Walter S. Bliss, told the committee he had "worked with Sucrow" on several Kansas City investigations and had told his story "to the Jackson county grand jury."

Bloody Shirts Spur Search
LOS ANGELES, April 12.—(P)—Discovery of two blood-stained shirts in a vacant lot today spurred a search for Ralph Ryan, 6, who, police were informed, disappeared on his way to school yesterday morning.

Mark Ryan, an employee of the City Bureau of Power and Light, told officers his son returned home several days ago with two pennies he said had been given him by a strange man. He was admonished not to accept gifts from strangers and the incident was forgotten.

The older lad said he scaled the fence, waited on the other side several minutes and then went on to school when his companion did not follow. Ralph never reached his classroom, but his parents did not learn he was missing until he failed to return home in the afternoon.

Detectives said the shirts, men's size, bore labels of a Chicago firm. Residents nearby were questioned to determine whether any suspicious characters had been seen in the vicinity.

Cooperation by Milligan
Testifying last night in Jefferson City at a legislative committee hearing on a bill to place the Kansas City police department under state control, Walter S. Bliss, an immigration inspector here said the narcotics situation in Kansas City is "unbelievable. The police department is making no effort to assist in its control."

Anslinger said the investigations leading to the roundup had the cooperation of District Attorney Maurice Milligan, who obtained the indictment last week of Pendergast on charges of income tax evasion in connection with an alleged "payoff" in the compromise in the distribution of $10,000,000 fire insurance premiums impounded in a rate case.

The policy holders received only 20 per cent under the settlement and the remaining 80 per cent went to the companies involved.

The investigation has been under way since October, 1937. Anslinger said New York was the source of supply and Kansas City the distributing point for the middle west.

Ramifications Widespread
"As far as narcotics go, all trails lead to Kansas City," Anslinger said.

"This is the beginning of the largest narcotics traffic roundup ever made in this part of the nation. Never was an illegal drug ring so widely inter-related. It has ramifications in Oklahoma, Seattle, Minneapolis and Denver."

Anslinger said Kansas City was the source of supply for a Texas ring which was broken up with the arrests of 50 men in Dallas two months ago.

Anslinger, who was accompanied here by J. Bruce Gresson, assistant commissioner, said the staff of United States Marshal Henry Dillingham assisted in the roundup of the suspects here.

District Attorney Milligan, he said, "very actively followed the course of these investigations."

The Kansas City suspects were to be arraigned this morning before the United States commissioner.

The charge against Ferguson accuses him of selling 1,656 grains of narcotics. Agents said he told them he owned more than 300 acres of Lake of the Ozarks land near Warsaw.

Seven of the defendants were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Charles H. Thompson and their bonds ranged from $30,000 down to $5,000.

Donnici, who drew the highest bond, was scored by Assistant District Attorney Richard L. Phelps.

"This man is responsible for bringing drugs into this city and he is responsible for many persons doing time. I believe government counsel will show Donnici is the man behind the scenes."

Commissioner Thompson said the $30,000 bond on Donnici indicated he was wholesaling narcotics.

Frank Raeder, Donnici's counsel, said his client "was the best known man in little Italy," Kansas City's predominantly Democratic north side.

Hearings for the men arraigned were set for April 20.

Suspended Patrolman
Colburn was suspended today by Otto P. Higgins, director of police. Higgins said he did not know the patrolman personally and made no comment on his arrest. Colburn has been a member of the department since July 1937.

Donnici has been a familiar figure as a bondsman around the federal court for years and called deputy marshals and court officials by their first names.

'Chief Supplier'
NEW YORK, April 12.—(P)—Charles Cassessa, one of a number of suspects in a national narcotics syndicate, whose arrest was announced today in Kansas City, was described by Major Garland Williams of the U. S. Narcotics Bureau here, as the chief supplier of narcotics for the Kansas City area.

"Cassessa," Major Williams said, "has long been known to us as one of the principal dealers."

asked to be unidentified said: "They're putting too much heat on for this bill. I don't see how it can lose."

Dalton Sworn In As Commissioner

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—S. P. Dalton of Cape Girardeau became commissioner of the state supreme court today, succeeding Charles L. Ferguson of Doniphan, who was not reappointed.

Dalton was sworn in by Supreme Clerk Eppa F. Elliott, who also administered the oath to the five other commissioners, all reappointed by the court last week. The appointments are for four year terms.

Those reappointed are: James A. Cooley, Kirksville, Henry J. Westhues, Jefferson City, Walter H. Bohling, Sedalia, John H. Bradley, Kennett and Laurance M. Hyde, Princeton.

Dalton, Bradley and Bohling are Democrats, the other three Republicans, under the legal requirements that both parties be equally represented among the commissioners.

Rev. English In Talk To Club

At the regular meeting of the Lions' club in a noon luncheon at Keuck's Tavern at noon today, the Rev. J. C. English, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was the principal speaker.

His talk was on "The Christian in A Civic Club" and it proved very interesting and instructive to the membership.

A discussion was held relative to the district meeting in Warrensburg Friday night, which will be attended by several members of the local organization.

Bill Signed To Cover Sitdowns

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark signed a bill today broadening the law of unlawful detainer to include sitdown strikes. Two other minor measures were vetoed by the executive.

The bill approved, introduced by Rep. Harry Gladish (R), Lafayette county, adds the following section to the unlawful detainer law: "Or when premises are occupied incident to the terms of employment and the employees hold over after termination of such employment."

"It is evident," the governor wrote, "this phrase establishes a jurisdiction for unlawful detainer suits far afield from the original jurisdiction based on the relationship of landlord and tenant."

In case of controversy between employers and employees as to possession of the plant pending adjustment of the trouble this remedy of unlawful detainer, heretofore unavailable for such an emergency, furnishes a speedy legal trial of the rights of the respective employer and employees in a local court in the county where both the parties reside and in a tribunal elected by the people where at least the employees live."

The bills vetoed were one of Rep. Morris Osburn (D), Shelby county, broadening the liability of the state for payment of costs in criminal cases, and one of Rep. Harry McGee (R), Warren county, eliminating the $1 charge to motor car owners seeking replacement of a lost certificate of registration.

The governor also sent the assembly a message reviving a Jackson county sewer bill of Rep. E. E. Montgomery (D), Jackson county. The measure, which had been marked for discard by the joint revision "slaughter" committee, was passed by the House yesterday and sent to the Senate.

A similar measure of Sen. M. E. Casey (D), Kansas City, passed by the assembly, was vetoed by Stark but he said the Montgomery bill met his objections largely.

Londoners Complain Of The Heat Today
LONDON, April 12.—(P)—Londoners complained of the heat today—it was 73 at noon, ten degrees above yesterday's figure—and peeled off coats and vests.

Parks and swimming pools were crowded. Many office workers ate box lunches outdoors rather than enter restaurants.

Six To Trial At Moscow Charged With Speculating
MOSCOW, April 12.—(P)—Six men accused of speculating in phonograph records are among a number on trial at the Moscow city court on speculation charges.

They are charged with having bought the most popular records obtainable at shops and then resold them to private clients at a profit.

CRESTON, Iowa, April 12.—(P)—Thelma Moon, teacher, and her 12 pupils escaped safely today when fire destroyed a rural school building near Afton, Iowa.

Severe Blizzard Strikes In Northern Ohio
CLEVELAND, April 12.—(P)—A blizzard swept northern Ohio today, snarling traffic and forcing temperatures down to the low 20s. Cleveland residents went to work in a blinding, wind-whipped snow storm.

House Approves Extending FHA

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(P)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill extending for two years the powers of the federal housing administration and raising from $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 the amount of mortgages it may insure.

The FHA, seeking to stimulate the flow of money into the construction industry and provide low cost home financing, insures loans by private institutions for home building and renovation. Unless congress continues its powers, they expire on June 30.

Before passing the bill on a voice vote, the House accepted an amendment by Representative Cochran (D-Mo.), designed to prevent what he said was the writing up of land values by promoters of large apartment projects. He cited what he said were two instances of such write-ups in St. Louis.

State Funeral To Senator Lewis
WASHINGTON, April 12.—(P)—President Roosevelt and congress paid a final tribute today to Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois at a state funeral in the senate chamber.

Members of the supreme court and other high government officials also were present to hear the Rev. Zebarny T. Phillips recite a short, simple service for the senate's Democratic whip, who died last Sunday of a heart attack.

Lewis' widow, heavily veiled, sat beside the steel casket. Flowers of all kinds were massed behind the casket on the vice president's dias. Among them was the president's white wreath. President Roosevelt was seated in front of the casket.

A mausoleum in Arlington national cemetery was selected for interment because of Lewis' military service.

Texas Richest Oil Man Dies

AUSTIN, Tex., April 12.—(P)—Ira G. Yates, 79, who began work as a boy digging peanuts for 50 cents a day and ended up as Texas' richest oil millionaire, died today of pneumonia.

The state's most prolific oil pool was discovered in 1926 on the West Texas, Pecos County ranch of Yates former mule trader, ranchman and butcher.

Today the Yates field has more than 550 wells with a total daily potential of 8,221,850 barrels, and has produced more than 240,000,000 barrels.

Yates said when he traded a store he owned at Rankin for "the ranch across the Pecos," friends were certain "I was going broke." They said even "buffalo knew better than to cross the Pecos—that a crow would not fly over it and that it was not worth taxes."

Review For Main Body Of Fleet
WASHINGTON, April 12.—(P)—The navy announced today the main body of the fleet would parade before Secretary Swanson April 23 off the Virginia Capes, in the first such review in the Atlantic in five years.

About 70 war craft, leaving the Hampton Roads-Yorktown area for the New York World's Fair, will steam past the naval secretary and other cabinet members in a column more than 16 miles long.

Swanson will represent President Roosevelt, who saw the fleet in action during the Caribbean war games in February. The chief executive witnessed the last previous formal review on the east coast, at New York in 1934.

Members of senate and house naval committees and foreign naval attaches will be invited, officials said, to view the display of American sea power.

Ready-To-Eat Picnics

(By Martha Logan)
 Have you heard about the cooked ready-for-the-table picnics now available in the markets? How good they are, too—so tender, juicy and well flavored.

This cured, smoked, shoulder cut of pork has always been a favorite among thrifty housewives who want a ham-like flavor at a less-than-ham price. Heretofore most picnics were water cooked at a simmering temperature for about 30 minutes per pound. Now these very new picnics have been completely cooked in the smoking process and are ready to slice cold or just heat through.

For the small family of two perhaps you would like to have the dealer cut a couple of half inch center slices to be pan broiled for dinner. This quick browning is sufficient to heat up the slices and make a delicious dinner meat. The meat on the butt end may be sliced for cold service with vegetable salad in lettuce cups.

The ways of using up the last flavorful tender bits of these cooked picnics are many. Ground or diced cooked picnic is delicious in scrambled eggs, omelets and souffles. Or one cup diced cooked picnic with one cup cooked peas, celery or asparagus combine with a cup of white sauce for a meal-making topping for toast or filling for toasted bun cases.

If you wish to heat up the whole cooked picnic, remember that this is a chunky piece of meat and, therefore, allow plenty of time for the heat to penetrate to the very center so that the picnic really is hot. A slow even (325 degrees Fahrenheit) gives best results and less dripping. Place the ready-to-eat picnic skin side up on a rack in an open pan. Add no water. If the picnic is very cold, an extra ten minutes per pound is needed. For this reason, it is wise to leave the picnic in the kitchen for several hours to warm up to room temperature. Allow about 1 1/2 hours slow baking for a small four-pound picnic and about two hours for an eight-pound picnic. Remove the skin. Sift brown sugar over the fat. Drizzle one-fourth cup of honey the sugar. Replace in the oven heated to 400 degrees Fahrenheit until well browned.

Reindeer meat is a staple food of Northlanders.

Gets Six Months for Killing Husband

St. Louis, April 12—(AP)—A circuit court jury convicted Mrs. Louise Carrie Ellgood last night of manslaughter in the fatal stabbing last January 4 of her husband, Eugene Ellgood, a WPA worker.

Mrs. Ellgood, 38, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse. She pleaded self-defense, claiming she picked up a butcher knife to scare her husband, but that he ran into the weapon during a drunken brawl in which she was beaten with a hammer.

Autocopy Sorter Invented By Former Sedalian

The machine shown above was invented by Norman Truitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Truitt, 1002 South Massachusetts avenue, is now in the course of production and will be on the market in about ninety days. It is being displayed in New York, Philadelphia, Albany and other places.

Eliminates Handwork

The Autocopy Sorter is one of the most radical inventions in the office equipment field during the past twenty-five years. It was designed to eliminate the "bottle-neck" of hand sorting in production of order and invoice work. Surveys have shown that in many cases it was possible to speed up production as high as 92 per cent by the change over to electrical equipment—72 per cent of this saving was lost, due to the fact that the copies had to be sorted by hand after the orders were run. Nine to ten thousand copies is a normal day's work for an Autocopy Electric Duplicator.

This machine was designed primarily (as shown) for use in connection with an Autocopy Electric Duplicator, although the principles involved are applicable to the distribution of sheets of paper, or the like, delivered from various machines. As applied to the Autocopy, the machine makes provisions for the segregation of one or more copies in each of a selected number of bins or compartments, so that each department or division of a business organization will be furnished with a complete set of copies, such as, for instance, orders, invoices, inventories, records, cards, etc.

The machine comprises a moveable carriage, which is divided into compartments which are progressively moved, step by step, to the delivering end of an Autocopy from which the copies are delivered. The number of copies to be delivered into each compartment is pre-determined by the touching of a button on the control board. On the model shown it is possible to skip entirely, or put one, two, three, four or five copies in any one (or more) of the ten compartments. It is also possible to hold the device at any compartment to receive a greater number of copies than provided for on the control board.

Murder Charge Over Fatal Fight

ALBANY, Mo., April 12.—(P)—First degree murder charges were filed in circuit court today against Cecil Fanning, 24, Stanberry, Mo., by Prosecuting Attorney E. L. Redman, as the outgrowth of a fight at Stanberry last Friday in which Ora Lee Davis, 53, Alantus, was fatally injured.

Davis died in a Maryville, Mo., hospital Saturday of a fractured skull suffered in the altercation outside a cafe.

Ezra Phillips, 19, and Mary Johnson, 22, both of Stanberry, were charged with being accessories after the fact in the death of Davis, for their alleged attempts to get Fanning out of Stanberry between the time he struck Davis, a blacksmith, and his arrest by Gentry County authorities late Friday night.

No preliminary hearing date had been set for the three held in connection with Davis' death.

To Construct $7,500 Home For L. B. Pratt

Tom Ware, Sedalia building contractor, has been awarded the contract to build a $7,500 home for L. B. Pratt, district manager of the National Life and Accident Insurance Co., in Jefferson City. The new residence is located at 614 Adams street, and work began several days ago.

Mr. Pratt formerly resided in Sedalia, leaving here January 1.

District Meet By Methodists

The last district meeting of the Sedalia Conference Methodist Episcopal church, South, was held at La Monte Monday and Tuesday. Hereafter the conferences will be held with the other Methodist conferences because of the union of the churches this month. Rev. L. M. Starkey, presiding elder, was in charge.

There was a large attendance and ministers in the district reported numerous additions to the church and finances in good condition.

The Rev. P. O. Whittle, pastor of the Mount Washington church, addressed the young people Monday night on "I Believe in the Church." Other speakers were, Mrs. Hugh Meyer, Versailles, secretary of the women's missionary society, M. Wray Witten, lay district leader, Dr. Robert H. Ruff, president of Central College, Fayette and Dr. E. J. Kulp, Kansas City.

No Change In Plans Of King And Queen

LONDON, April 12.—(P)—A Buckingham palace official said today that no changes had been made or were immediately contemplated in the present plans for the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to the United States and Canada next month.

The admiralty said "we have heard nothing" of reports the trip might be made aboard a Canadian liner so the 32,000-ton battle cruiser Repulse would be available for active service in Europe. Previously the admiralty disclosed plans were altered for the royal apartments aboard the Repulse so that four anti-aircraft guns need not be removed.

Last Employee Of Old Railway Dies

BROOKFIELD, Mo., April 12.—(P)—The last surviving employee of the historic Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad is dead.

Charles H. Leapheart, 88, who served the rail line as an engineer 50 years until his retirement 13 years ago, died at his dinner table. He is survived by his 86 year old widow. The couple celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary last fall, which was also the 75th anniversary of the first rail line across north Missouri.

In 1929, Leapheart came out of retirement for a "last run" to pilot the American Royal out of Kansas City for Chicago. He relinquished the throttle here.

Opera Singer Unable To Sing For The Legislature

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—Well, the legislators didn't get to hear Gladys Swarthout after all.

The opera singer was here for a concert yesterday. By enthusiastic resolution the house of representatives invited her to give a "command performance" in the house chamber at 10 a. m. today. But Miss Swarthout couldn't make it. She sent word the legislative recital would have interfered with her traveling connections.

Declaration Be Made By French

PARIS, April 12.—(P)—The French government decided suddenly today to make a formal statement to the world of its position in the international tangle as most of France's Mediterranean fleet sped to a secret destination.

The mission of the fleet which slipped out of Toulon naval base last night was not disclosed, but it was believed the warships were operating under a joint French-British command.

The same cabinet meeting which unanimously adopted extraordinary military measures reinforcing the French army and navy approved a frank declaration which Premier Daladier will issue tomorrow.

In conferences at the war ministry after the cabinet meeting Daladier ruled against broadcasting the statement. The premier declared it would be a brief communique, defining the French position exactly.

The final draft of the declaration was to be agreed upon later today in a conference between Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet.

The foreign minister made arrangements to receive William C. Bullitt, United States ambassador, and Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador, before his talk with Daladier.

It was not yet decided at what hour the premier would issue the statement.

Sources close to the government, however, underscored it as "exceptionally important" and emphasized it would be made the same day as Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement to the House of Commons on British policy.

Members of the cabinet left the session with President Lebrun looking grave and worried. Daladier hurried to the war ministry.

Personals

Mrs. E. W. Jones, of Columbia, is a visitor in Sedalia today.

Mrs. E. A. Burnett, of R. F. D., No. 3, is home from a trip to Texas where at San Antonio she visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chaney and sister, Mrs. Mabel Martin. Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Martin returned by automobile after visiting another sister, Mrs. O. Roemer, and family at Houston, and still another sister, Mrs. S. E. Riley, Mr. Riley and family at Tulsa, Okla.

Blaze in Egypt Kills Twenty-one Persons

CAIRO, April 12.—(P)—Fire, fanned by a gale, was reported today to have destroyed three villages in lower Egypt, killing 21 persons and injuring 63.

The fire started yesterday from a spark blown from an open oven onto the thatched roof of a native dwelling.

Congressman's Son and Fiancee Injured

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(P)—Hospital attendants described today as fair the condition of Miss Patricia Crane, 20, St. Joseph, Mo., and Richard Duncan, 25, son of Representative Duncan (D-Mo) who were injured in an automobile accident.

Miss Crane, fiancee of Duncan, suffered a possible skull fracture and other injuries when a car struck the couple last night. Duncan received a fractured leg.

French Pessimistic About European Setup

PARIS, April 11.—(P)—The government today adopted extraordinary defense measures drawn up by naval and military experts to protect France in any eventuality in the troubled international situation.

The cabinet meeting was the high spot of a day of great activity by both military and diplomatic officials. During the session it became evident the French took a dark view of the situation.

No Undue Delay For Pendergast

WASHINGTON, April 12.—(P)—Attorney General Frank Murphy said today the government expected no "undue delay" in the prosecution of the Tom Pendergast income tax case in Kansas City.

Pendergast, powerful in Kansas City politics, and R. E. O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, were indicted last week on a charge of evading federal income taxes.

At the attorney general's press conference, a reporter remarked the defense had hired "some very shrewd lawyers." To this, the attorney general said, "that won't make any difference, the case will take its proper course."

One questioner asked about the possibility of a move for a continuance by the defense and whether such a continuance could be sought in an income tax case.

Murphy replied it would be possible for a continuance to be granted "even in an income tax case." There might be a reason for the court to allow time for the defense to prepare its case, he said.

Then he added: "That doesn't mean there will be an undue delay."

A reporter who pointed out the grand jury's term expires April 24, asked whether the attorney general intended to ask for a continuance of the grand jury beyond its regular term. Murphy said he was "not familiar with this."

Asked whether there would be other indictments growing out of the Pendergast case, Murphy said he could not discuss that, and said, "you may have noted in other matters that there have been several indictments."

Scholarship Bill Was Defeated

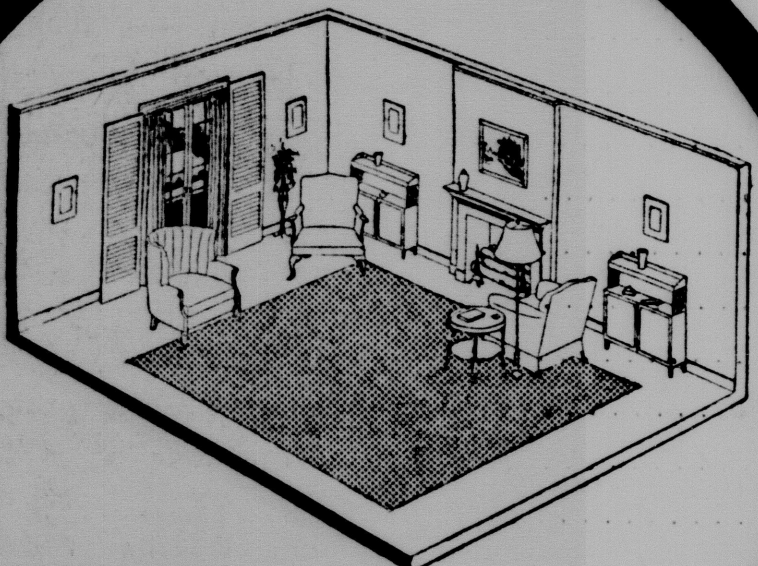

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—A move of Rep. Claude Arnold (D), Stoddard county, to force his bill creating 339 University of Missouri scholarships onto the house floor for consideration was beaten late yesterday when it gained only 47 votes—29 less than a majority.

The measure had been killed by the education committee. A similar proposal introduced by Arnold early in the session was perfected for passage in the house but discarded in the "slaughter" committee's report.

Each of the 150 representatives could have named one scholarship holder under the bill, the senators could have appointed another 150, and the governor 39. Recipients would have been admitted to the university without payment of tuition or fees.

Association To Start Season

COLUMBUS, O., April 12—(AP)—The American Association opens its 38th campaign tomorrow, and President George M. Trautman predicts it will be the league's best season at the box office.
"Baseball is celebrating its centennial this year," Trautman said, "and there's a slogan 'see one ball game this year.'"

The eight Association cities—the same one that launched the loop back in 1902—have a combined population of about 4,000,000, the prexy added. If half that number takes a trip to the park, the

Joe Matched With Unknown Heavyweight

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

Joe Louis and a guy named Jack something-or-other will climb into the ring at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles, the night of April 17 and fight 10 rounds for the heavyweight title.

Well, anyway, Mike Jacobs can show you a contract that says there'll be a fight, and the red and blue posters stuck up around town say it'll be for 10 rounds.

No—we take that back. Mr. Dick Donald, the gent who manages this Jack person, has gotten out some posters of his own which proclaim among other things that all fight experts are nuts, and that it was the same experts who made Jack Dempsey a 4 to 1 favorite over Gene Tunney and Max Baer a 10 to 1 shot over Jim Braddock.

But what we started to say was Mister Donald's posters also predict the battle will go four rounds at most, with Jack something-or-other winning. Unquote.

His Brother Responsible

Now then—a few words about Mr. Louis's opponent of the 17th inst. He admits to 36-going-on-37 summers, but no doubt you've seen his pictures in the papers of late and share the same doubts we do. No one could get so battle-scarred in 37 years.

He joined the Marines in 1919, served four years, and when he was mustered out of service his big brother sold him on the idea of the prize ring as a career. Since then he has retired and come back again about as many times as there are fingers on your hands.

Sure, he's a tough lad. Has a wicked left hook, too. After he made his seventh (or was it the eighth?) comeback he kayoed Patsy Perroni, Bob Nestell, Dutch Weiner (who??), Dizzy Duggan (sorry, don't know the gentleman) and Art Lasky. Oh yes, and he scalped some Indian lad named Junior Mossell a few weeks back. And so Jack somebody-or-other is going to mix it with Joe Louis for the world's heavyweight championship.

Jack Can't Lose?

But maybe you like symbolism. If so, you'll see where he can't lose. George Engle, an old-time manager who had Frank Klaus when the tough Pittsburgh middleweight toured Europe in pre-war days, tells you why.

The guy who gets his picture on the right side of the plunger posters always wins. Fantastic, eh?

Klaus had almost a dozen fights in Europe. In every case, says Engle, he had his picture on the right side of the billboard. In 1915 the show-cards of the Johnson-Willard thing had Willard's picture on the right.

Dempsey's face was likewise when he met Willard. Seven years later Tunney's was ditto at Philadelphia. Dempsey came back and couldn't lose to Jack Sharkey because of the right-side arrangement.

Schmeling thusly won from Sharkey after Tunney retired. Same was true when Sharkey beat Carnera, Braddock whipped Baer, and in the three Barney Ross-Jimmy McLarnin battles.

Max Schmeling's face adorned the right side of the posters when he belted over Louis in 1936.

And now, Engle points out somewhat triumphantly, this Jack something-or-other has his photo on the right side of the current posters.

Elevator Job Symbolic

But we too take much stock in symbolism. After this Jack person retired from the ring for the fourth time he got himself a job running an elevator. Up and down he'd go, all day long, up and down.

We're not much of a betting man, but we'll wager a tuppence that he reverts to type in this epic affair of the ring the night of April 17.

Uncle Mike Jacobs ought to be ashamed of himself. Why, it's actually taking money under false pretenses. As we understand, people are parting with good portions of their weekly pay-checks to see the movie electrician get the biggest shock of his life.

Wait a minute—we've found out who this Jack something-or-other is. His name is Roper—Jack Roper. Ever hear of him?

the Veterans of Foreign Wars, last night at the S. B. A. Hall.

The newly elected officers were installed in office by Sergeant E. H. Case, of Jefferson City. Albert R. Coble, district commander, presided over the meeting.

Delegates from the posts at Clinton, Warrensburg and Wind-sor attended the meeting. Refreshments were served by members of the ladies auxiliary.

Due For Shock

Jack Roper

The former Marine and now movie lot electrician was unknown until signed to fight champion Joe Louis. Chances are he will be equally unknown after the fight.

in singing "There's Music in the Air." There was little business to transact so most of the time was given for the lesson project, Five Laundry. The roll call—one way of making clothes last longer, fitted in well with the lesson. Mrs. Sam Ransdell, our clothing leader, efficiently demonstrated the correct method of washing, drying and ironing woollens, silks, rayons, ribbons, laces and linens. Emphasizing the importance of all waters for washing and rinsing woollens, and silks being of the same temperature. She demonstrated how one can tell by burning a sample of cloth whether it will wash or not. She also gave us a formula for making starch for limp silks and rayons to restore the finish and sheen to look like new material. Much helpful information was given by Mrs. Ransdell.

Refreshments in keeping with were served by the hostess.

Members present were Mesdames Morton Fraley, Mary Dick, Myrol Taylor, Wallace Poague, Charles Gilcrest, Charles Williams, Sam Ransdell, Wallace Dundas, and Miss Maud Downing.

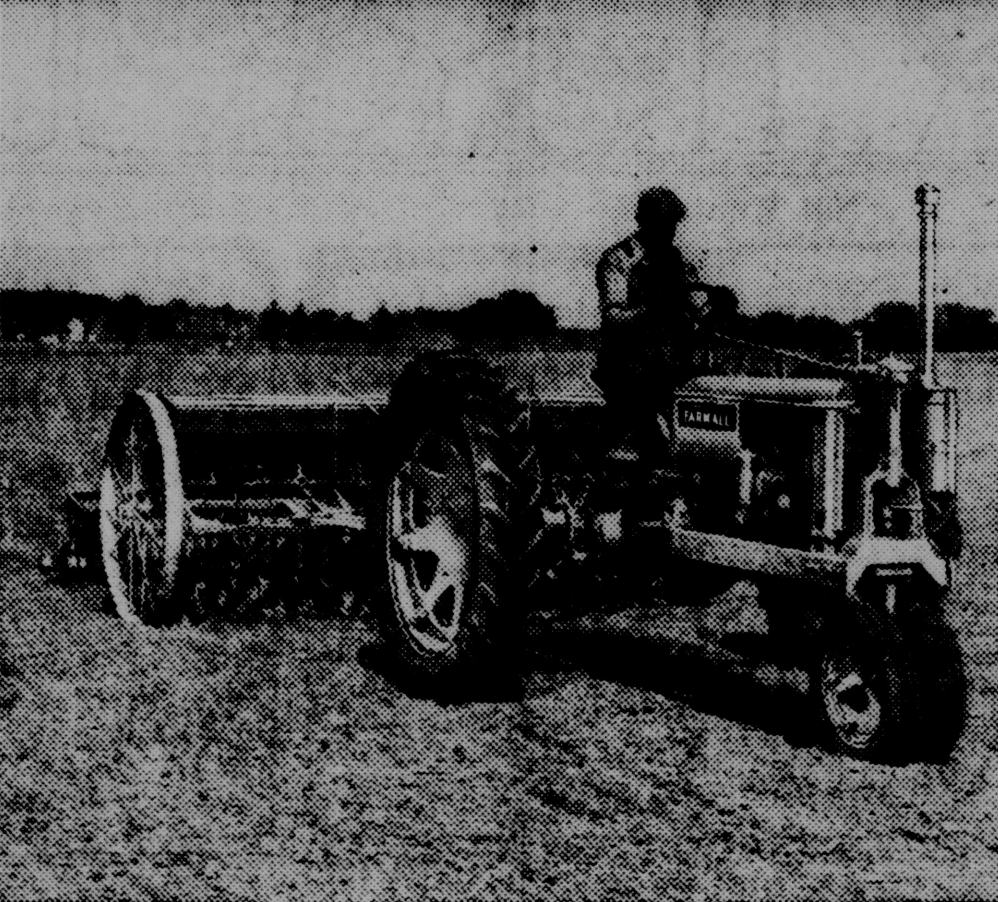

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lawrence Miller May 3. Lesson subject "Discipline."

Raising a Family

Most Children Tell Fibs, But Seldom Without Reason

By Olive Roberts Barton

Johnny comes in and says that he saw an Indian around the corner chasing people. Or he may insist that a big bird talked to him. That is one kind of a fib we understand because it belongs in the category of imagination. Children of certain years live, frequently, in a world divided. Fact and fancy know no real cleavage in the minds of such youngsters.

The three-or-four-year-old is strong on fabrication. Then, there seems to be a relapse at nine or ten when boys, especially, are prone to fiction. This time it is not the Indian or the bird that is the protagonist, but "I," meaning self. "I am the general." "I am the aviator." "I am the ruler of the universe." Such inventions come of day dreaming, and hero worship. The child says such things, however, with his tongue in his cheek.

But suppose Johnny comes in and says, "I found this ball" when all the time he knows, and you know, it is Tommy's ball. Or he denies having lost his dime, saying, perhaps that someone took it. This is a fib of a different color. The first time he does it you are shocked. The second time you are worried. The third time you make up your mind that he is a "biological sport" or one of those unfortunates born never to know the difference between right and wrong.

Behind every lie a child tells, there is a reason.

Johnny has met with a situation that is too much for him. He protects himself. Just why he has to protect himself is the real problem.

Is he so afraid of us that he cannot tell the truth? Is he so sure we won't listen patiently or sympathetically that he cuts corners and makes up a story to put an end to things? Or is he so sensitive about his honor, as he sees it, that he cannot and will not admit a mistake? It may be that he is afraid of physical punishment. The lie seems the simplest way to fix things, then, and he uses it.

This easiest way out, repeated, becomes a habit. Anything that serves so well to relieve him of consequences will not easily be discarded.

Stop First Lie
The first time Johnny lies, say for example, about Tommy's ball, get him by his own word of mouth to acknowledge that he took it. But do not rub in the fact that he has lost caste in your eyes. Above all things, keep him from thinking that by fibbing he has become a criminal. Just show him that it is better to tell the truth than to lie.

The second time he does it, tell him that he will lose friends and your respect, too, if he repeats his story-telling. This time, talk turkey to him. Show him that no lie helps a boy to be a hero. Instead, he will be despised in no time at all.

The third time I certainly should punish him, simply to show him that retribution overtakes the untruthful.

In every case, however, we must be sure that the child is not driven to lying by your own intolerance and short patience.

Stamp News

NEWEST philatelic find to stir the nation's stamp collectors is an imperforate vertical variety of the current 10-cent special delivery, gray violet, type SD6, Scott's No. 1904. It was discovered at an Oakland, Calif., post-office by a non-collector and the vertical imperforate appears between the first and second rows of stamps. This sheet is the only one known to exist. The sheet number is 19233.

Covers for first-day mailing at dedication of the new $1,000,000 airport in Moline, Ill., should be sent to the Quad City Philatelic Society, Fifth Avenue Bldg., Moline. Collectors should use commemorative on their enclosures and leave the covers open. It is probable a special cachet may be provided.

The second series of the colorful Nikko national park issues of Japan will be released in April. Japan has recently established the Postage Stamp Association of Japan, with offices in the Department of Communications, Tokio.

There is a possibility that a special U. S. stamp or series may be issued this year as a memorial to the humorist, the late Will Rogers. Rogers has already appeared on a set released recently by Nicaragua.

Interesting new issues:
Afghanistan: two value, one picturing hospital at Kabul and a second picturing Pierre and Marie Curie; Gilbert and Ellice Islands: 12 pictorials showing island life, products and people; Hungary: five values showing Admiral Horthy, castles and cathedrals, a statue symbolic of recovered territories, and a girl offering flowers to a soldier.

The Family Doctor

For more than twenty years physicians have been experimenting with various vaccines in an attempt to find some method of inoculation which would have reasonable certainty in helping to prevent whooping cough.

This is one of the main problems that confront medicine today. Whooping cough is a widespread disease far more serious, in fact, for the growing child than either measles or scarlet fever.

The most that could be done to prevent the spread of whooping cough was to isolate children who became infected so that well children could not come in contact with them. However, many children apparently go on coughing after they are well and act as carriers of the germs.

During the years that have passed, physicians have studied more carefully the different germs that might be involved. The most recent evidence indicates that there are varieties of the germs and that it becomes necessary, therefore, to prepare vaccines with relationship to the different types of organisms.

In various parts of the country different vaccines have been used—using different types of dosage. There now seems to be good evidence that a vaccine properly used will confer complete protection on many children and partial protection on others.

In some instances it seems to be desirable to vaccinate the children each year as long as they are in the period when they are likely to be exposed to whooping cough, using small amounts of vaccine after the first immunization.

Unfortunately, we do not have for whooping cough the kind of a test that we have for diphtheria which shows with certainty whether or not a child when exposed is likely to develop the disease.

Recently physicians in San Francisco vaccinated 211 infants with a whooping cough vaccine and used 182 infants who were not vaccinated for purposes of comparison.

During a period of 34 months there were 29 of the children who had been vaccinated definitely exposed to whooping cough; nine developed the disease and 20 did not.

During the same period there were 32 of the children who were not vaccinated who happened to be exposed to whooping cough. Among these 29 developed the disease and three escaped.

The figures from this study in California are now verified by similar studies made in other large cities of the country. Apparently there is a reasonable amount of protection to be derived from suitable vaccination against whooping cough.

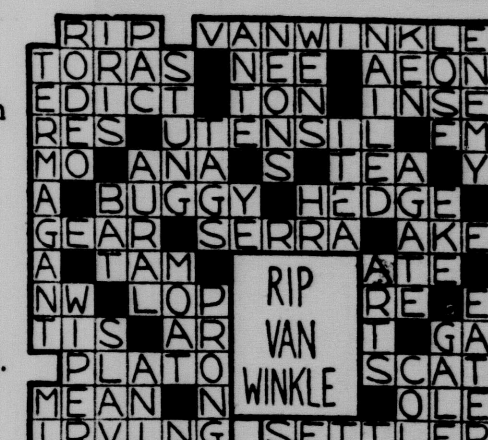

Parents will do well to give their children opportunity for such protection, particularly at times when whooping cough is wide-spread in the community.

A woman brewer suggests that men should be separated from women in saloons. Well, fellows, it would be easier on the pocket-book.

State Road Work NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals, addressed to THE STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION OF MISSOURI, Jefferson City, Missouri, and endorsed "Proposal for constructing (or improving) State road Route 35-B (1), Pettis County," will be received by the Commission until 10:00 o'clock A. M., on the 21st day of April, 1939, at the office of the Commission in the State Highway Building at Jefferson City, and at that time will be publicly opened and read.

The proposed work includes: Grading, constructing culverts, and a gravel or crushed stone surface, together with any incidental work, on the state supplementary road from the Pettis-Saline County line southerly toward Route 65, the total length of the improvement being 1.437 miles. Multiple or combination bids will be permitted on Projects FAS 35-A (1), Saline County and FAS 35-B (1), Pettis County.

The minimum wage paid to all labor employed on this contract shall be as follows: Skilled Labor—55c per hour; Intermediate Labor—45c per hour; Unskilled Labor—35c per hour.

By virtue of statutory authority, preference shall be given to materials, products, supplies, provisions, and other articles, produced, manufactured, made, or grown within the State of Missouri, where same are of a suitable character and can be obtained at reasonable market prices in the State and are of a quality suited to the purpose intended, and can be secured without additional cost over foreign products or products of other states.

Plans and specifications may be inspected in the offices of the Commission at Jefferson City, or the Division Engineer at Kansas City, Missouri. Complete instructions to bidders and proposal blanks may be obtained at the Jefferson City office. Proposals must be on forms provided.

The right is reserved by the State Highway Commission to reject any or all bids.

CARL W. BROWN,
Chief Engineer.

Health Nurse Gives Report

Miss Elizabeth Guy, county health nurse, makes the following report of her activities for the month of March:

A number of meetings were held furthering public health education. The most outstanding was regional conference. The theme of this conference was Nutrition. Two nutritionists from the University of Missouri lectured and gave demonstrations on the selecting and preparation of foods. The importance and the problem of budgeting the diet was featured.

During this month four X-rays have been taken at the Lattimore Laboratory by the County Tuberculosis Association. As the results of these pictures one application has been made for Mr. Vernon Sanatorium. More and more the importance of early diagnosis and hospitalization of tuberculosis cases becomes evident that it is necessary before any assurance can be given these active cases that their case will become quiescent. In all tuberculosis cases the family is instructed how to care for the dishes, proper disposal of sputum, sleeping arrangements, importance of bed rest and fresh air. Just because a case of tuberculosis is diagnosed and hospitalization is secured does not mean the nurses work has been done.

Fact is it has just begun. Examinations of contacts must be done. In the case of small children where they have received repeated exposure, instructions regarding diet, fresh air and sunshine and sufficient rest must be stressed as the children are potential cases of tuberculosis and all steps must be taken for this prevention.

The syphilis clinic which is being conducted every Friday afternoon at the Salvation Army Temple has an enrollment of 48 cases. These cases appear in primary, latent, tertiary and congenital stages.

A total of 29 points toxoid immunizations and 60 smallpox vaccinations were given at Green Ridge school under the sponsorship of Dr. H. A. Hite of Green Ridge. Three more such clinics have been arranged for during the month of April. In each instance the nurse was asked to come out and arrange for these clinics instead of her having to create the desire for a clinic.

Most of the home visiting done in March was with Miss Nadyne Anderson, State Crippled Childrens Nurse, visiting all cases before the clinic is to be held and learning the questions that are bothering the parents.

In Great Britain there is one car for every 17 persons, in the United States the ratio is one car to every four and a half persons.

Community Club Has Program

The program at the Hughesville Community club Friday night was in charge of Mrs. Berry Elliott, home making committee chairman.

Trooper Lester Estes made a talk on preventing accidents on the highways which was entertaining and instructive.

A declamation, "Listen! This Means You," by Dora Dale Siron was along the same thought as the talk.

An oration, "The Great American Menace," was given by Dorothy Stephens.

The above two numbers ranked second and third respectively, recently in the contest at Smithton.

The other two numbers on the program were plays, the first, "Buddy Buys An Orchard," directed by Miss Evelyn Miller with the following cast:

Buddy, who is having his first date, Julian Fowler; Mrs. Bradley, his mother, Nan Powell; Alida, his sister, Miriam Nell Rages; Bill, Alida's friend, Lawson Smith; Belle, the darky maid, Mrs. Oscar Martin.

The second play, "Squaring It With The Boss," was directed by Glenn R. Snider and had the following cast:

James Greening, who received a raise under false pretenses, Geo. Lowrey; Beth, his wife, Elizabeth Wiley; Miss Hortense, James' aunt, Lorraine Kincheloe; Miss Clarissa, Beth's aunt, Mrs. G. G. Gorrell; Mr. Dunne, the boss, Edwin Hemphill; Johnny Bender, the pseudo baby.

House Members To Attend Opening Ball Game

JEFFERSON CITY, April 12.—(P)—The lure of a baseball game led the House to agree today to "play hookey" next week.

The lawmakers voted to accept an invitation to attend the major league opener in St. Louis between the Browns and Detroit next Tuesday. More than 80 members said they would attend.

Speaker Pro Tem Ed R. Caldwell said only a formal session would be held Monday so that the week's work would not get under way until Wednesday.

LaGuardia Not Ask Re-Election

NEW YORK, April 12.—(P)—Mayor LaGuardia's executive secretary, Stanley H. Howe, has confirmed reports LaGuardia would not seek re-election in 1941.

Howe told a business men's luncheon yesterday the mayor had made an iron-clad promise to his wife to retire at the end of his term because of her fears the strain of his duties would break his health.

No comment was made by Howe on reports LaGuardia might seek the presidential nomination in 1940, possibly at the head of a third party movement.

Donald Lange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil G. Lange, 1838 South Warren, who has been very ill the past few days, is better today.

Stranded Motorist "Thumbs" An Aviator

MANTEO, N. C., April 12.—(P)—Sheriff Victor Meekins was 40 miles out in the sand dunes when his car broke down.

Not another automobile was in sight. The sheriff looked into the air. A red monoplane came zooming along. Up went the sheriff's hand, his thumb pointed in collegiate fashion. Down came the plane. The pilot brought Meekins to Roanoke Island.

The world's largest piano accordion, a German product, has a range of 1328 notes.

Rat Entangled In Clothing Ends In Death

ATLANTA, April 12.—(P)—A huge rat, startled when Mrs. Minnie Martin passed on the sidewalk, leaped and became entangled in her clothing.

Horried, Mrs. Martin rushed into the street, in the path of a motor car. Both Mrs. Martin and the rat were killed.

HOW IS YOUR DIGESTION?

Springfield, Mo.—Mrs. May Myers, 1241 W. Talmage St., says: "I was made miserable by acid indigestion and gas on my stomach. I had very little strength and felt so dull, listless and tired. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery gave me splendid relief from the acid stomach me strength. I felt fine after using it. Ask your druggist today for it in liquid or tablets."
